History

What is History?
History examines the human experience from its origins to the present. Beyond introductory surveys, courses focus on various regions (Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, United States), time periods (ancient, medieval, early modern, and modern), and methods (economic, social, quantitative, political, cultural). Interdisciplinary programs incorporate history into a variety of other programs (e.g., history of medicine, international relations, various area studies majors, women’s studies).

What are the major requirements?
Go to www.catalogs.umn.edu/programs.html and select “Undergraduate majors.”

How do I declare a History major?
You will be required to declare a major by the time you have completed 60 credits.
1. Talk with someone from the department: an adviser, a professor, or a teaching assistant to learn about the History major’s requirements.
2. When you decide upon a History major, meet with the appropriate person from the department to complete a Major Program form.
3. Bring a copy of the form or plan to your CLA student community.
4. If you decide to change your major, contact your student community to learn more about your new major’s declaration process.

• Public Relations and Advertising—corporate public affairs, lobbying
• Nonprofit—museum work, fundraising, programming, management
• Education—teaching, research, student affairs

Today’s workplace requires individuals with interpersonal skills, the ability to communicate effectively, an ability to solve problems, and adaptability. CLA graduates find that they are well-prepared in all these areas and that their education—which combined with experience gained through internships, volunteer positions, past jobs, and other collegiate involvement—makes them competitive.

The Career & Community Learning Center provides students with the tools to identify and pursue potential careers. An extensive resource room, career courses and workshops, and a helpful staff are just some of the ways we can help.

Remember!
You have not declared a major until you have:
• completed a Major Program form with your major adviser,
• filed a copy with the major department,
• and filed a copy with your CLA student community.

Don't forget: keep a copy for yourself!
