Academic Probation Policy

If either the Fall or Spring term GPA or the overall GPA falls below 2.0, the student is placed on academic probation.

Students on academic probation will be continued on probation if either the term GPA or overall GPA is below 2.0, but the other is at least 2.0.

Students on academic probation will be suspended from the college for at least one year if both their term and overall GPA fall below 2.0.

To be removed from probation, both the term GPA and overall GPA must be at least 2.0.

CLA students must maintain a minimum 2.0 GPA each Fall and Spring term, and a minimum 2.0 overall GPA in University of Minnesota courses.

Students are responsible for checking their grades. Grades are available online at http://onestop.umn.edu/registrar/Grades/index.html.

Important Withdrawal Dates
The last day to cancel regular full-term classes without college permission is October 27, 2003. (IDL classes and non-15 week sessions have different deadlines. See the Fall 2003 Class Schedule or http://www.onestop.umn.edu/registrar/calendars/drop_fall03.html for dates.) After that, students must petition in their Student Community to withdraw from classes. Three types of withdrawals are possible:

- A one-time-only petition to withdraw from one class
- A petition to withdraw from classes based on extenuating and verifiable circumstances that arose after the 8th week of class
- Complete withdrawal from all Fall 2003 classes

The deadline to process any approved withdrawal or complete cancellation is December 12, 2003, before 4:30 pm. However, a petition to withdraw from classes due to extenuating and verifiable circumstances should be started well in advance of this deadline.
